

Katarzyna Wojda – Green Transition Expert, Energy

Organisation: Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Royal Danish Embassy in Warsaw.

Education:

Graduate of the University of Warsaw, with M.A. in Applied Linguistics and cross-cultural communication. Conducted postgraduate studies in Political Science and Culture of Africa and Asia at the Polish Academy of Science. She was a freelance student at the Arhus University, Applied Linguistics and cross culture communication.

Experience:

Katarzyna is a business strategist, excelling in stakeholder management within sustainable development domain. In the 20 years of her professional endeavours within public affairs, economic & climate diplomacy, and business, she has created plethora of trustful Danish-Polish alliances between industry, academia and policy makers. Making sustainability business as usual is her driving force. In 2020, she became Poland's first Ambassador for the Living Building Challenge, excelling in promoting sustainability and making a positive impact.